

Dr. Maarten Snoeijs received his medical degree from Maastricht University and was trained as general and vascular surgeon at Maastricht UMC+ and Zuyderland. He did a fellowship in vascular surgery at OLVG in Amsterdam and has worked as a vascular surgeon at Maastricht UMC+ since 2017 where he is the clinical lead for the vascular access center of excellence. Dr. Snoeijs is registered as Fellow of the European Board of Vascular Surgeons and is a member of the Dutch and European Society for Vascular Surgery and of the Vascular Access Society. In addition to his training as a vascular surgeon, dr. Snoeijs is a registered clinical epidemiologist.